THE VERY LATEST.

Milady's Necktie Reaches to the Waist Now.

THE SPRING FASHION IN NECKTIES.

Neckties have been growing longer and longer, and now the really smart bow has ends to the waist. Sometimes these ends pass through buttonholed slits in the waists, as illustrated here or they may be slipped beneath cords or other ornaments.

Concerning Women.

A bachelor who died a few days ago at Frankfurt, Germany, left an endowment for a unique annual prize. This prize of $125 is to be given to the man who weds the ugliest woman. If the woman is lame as well as ugly the bridegroom will receive an additional $125.

Miss Margaret V. Kelly is Uncle Sam's highest paid woman official. She gets $3,000 a year. She is assistant director of the mint. Actually the secretary of the treasury has little to do with our coin. Miss Kelly attends to that. There are but four persons between her and the secretary of the treasury, and in their absence she runs things. Really, she does that anyway every day in the year.

The Toothbrush League of Baltimore is said to have been thought out and organized by two trained nurses when the playgrounds were opened at the beginning of the season. The object is to encourage children in the care of their teeth. The members at present number 1,000. They have all been taught how to use their toothbrushes and have entered a contest for the best kept teeth. Prizes will be awarded in each branch of the league.

Lady Duff Gordon says that the Parisienne is losing all her taste and style and that English women dress very much better. She says that a man in Paris has invented a sort of funnel affair that is on the order of the crinoline, and there is no telling to what extremes Paris women may go before the end of the present winter. English women are said to disdain the idea of crinoline, but no doubt its appearance in Paris would soon be followed by its adoption by both English and American women.

from which rises a high wired bow. Around the crown goes a wreath of small silk roses in shades of mauve, pink, gray and American Beauty color.

In Case of Accidents.
Burns and Scalds.—Cover with cooking soda and lay wet cloths over it, whites of eggs and olive oil.
Mad Dog or Snake Bites.—The cord tight above wound, suck wound and cauterize at once or cut out with sharp knife.
Venomous Insect Stings, etc.—Apply weak ammonia oil, salt water or iodine.

Fainting.—Place flat on back, allow fresh air, sprinkle with water.
Chinders in the Eye.—Roll soft paper up like lamp lighter and wet the tip to remove; rub the other eye.

Vivid Tinge and Lace.
The newest note is the use of vivid colors in embroidery. Lace, continues to be used on everything; in every style and weight and every known design.

Keep Brasses Dry.
Dampness will soon tarnish brass articles. But if they are kept in a dry and cool place they will remain untarnished for a long time.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

A GLIMPSE OF WAR.

The Sensations of a Young French Soldier at Sedan.

We could see the lines and lines of helmets. A bad sight to see those helmet spikes.

And I cannot remember when it was that there crept through our ranks the feeling that those helmets were not only in front of us, but in every direction round about, and that we were surrounded. I suppose it came from the sound of firing coming from so many directions.

It is at such a time that one feels of a helplessness. And the noise—did I tell you of the noise? There were single booms and crashes of volley firing, and then there would be just one great roaring, one great thundering, that deafened you and in which you could not tell one sound from another.

There was smoke, smoke, everywhere, and the ground would tremble when the cavalry made charge.

I would tell you all that I remember of most interest. But is it interesting to tell you that shells burst and that our ranks thinned and closed up and that I felt more and more that we were to be beaten?

I would have wept, but I had too much to do in firing and in watching the lines of helmets.

It is that a soldier gets full of an excitement. You do things and you scarcely know that you do them or why.

It was early that day, that my comrade was killed. And he jumped up twice—so, so! And he fell flat on his face. I turned him over, and my captain said: "No time for that. You are a young soldier or you would know there is no time for that."—Robert Shackleton in Harper's Weekly.

BASQUE EFFECTS.

Lace an Important Factor of Summer Frocks.

DELIGHTFUL COSTUME OF TAN NET.

Basque effects are being pushed by designers of costumes this season, but it remains to be seen whether the idea is going to "take" with their patrons. The gown illustrated shows the basque notion in its incipient stage. The material employed in this costume is a pale tan net trimmed with bands of Venice lace. The lace of the bodice is also mounted on the tan net. A very modish touch is to be found in the plaited frill at the foot of the skirt and the slashed trimmed velvet coat, with button trimmed coatails at the back.

For the Girl Who Sees.
A bright young girl, whose pet fad is harmony in the matter of the little details of dress, devising always some original touch which will tell those who see that her costume was designed as a whole, not being merely a chance collection of dress and accessories, evolved a charming and graceful fichu and cuff set to which any color touch desired can be added, according to the dress with which it is to be worn.

The fichu itself is of the usual draped surplice shape, curved to fit over the shoulders and trimmed with dainty lace frills. The inner edge is also of lace. Along the middle of the fichu following its longest line is a strip of velvet ribbon or folded satin of a tint to match the gown, that is held in place by little cross straps of lace about three inches apart, out from which it can be drawn when the fichu is laundered or when it is to be replaced by some other color.

The cuffs to match this were deep ones, turned back, with double rows of lace frills an inch deep at the upper edge. Around the body of each cuff went the strip of satin or velvet to match that used on the fichu, and this again was apparently secured by the tiny straps of lace which crossed it, but which was also, as in the case of the fichu, caught here and there by an invisible stitch to prevent any accident or slipping from place. The narrow girdle was also of the same material as the colored "inset."

Concerning Women.
Miss Louise F. Brown, an instructor at Wellesley college, is the first woman to receive the Herbert Baxter Adams prize of $200 offered every two years by the American Historical association for the best essay on European history. Miss Brown's essay was one of a very large number submitted by representatives of many leading colleges throughout the country.

The Countess of Warwick is planning a lecture tour in the United States and Canada, for which she has prepared three subjects. One deals with woman suffrage and the other two are on communism and celebrities she has met.

Miss "Harriet" Keeler has recently been appointed superintendent of schools in Cleveland, O. A woman is tenement inspector in that city, having charge of the sanitary police; a woman is assistant librarian, a woman has charge of outdoor relief, two women are on the school board, one having been elected clerk, making six important positions filled by women in a city which two years ago had but one woman in public office, a member of the board of education.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, ex-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and a possibility as United States senator, in a recent interview said that a woman's party is under consideration in Colorado, as they have found both of the old political parties permeated with corruption.

There's No Use in Arguing

if a store hasn't the right stock of hardware, paints and housefurnishings. It might as well put up its shutters and go 'way back and sit down. What the wise public demands now-a-days is—general excellence, big variety, attractive display and honest prices; a four-cornered business argument that stands for "deeds—not words." We don't THINK—we're SURE that this store is so equipped.
